

Hul'q'umi'num' to English Dictionary

This material is based on research projects carried out by Prof. Tom Hukari, Ruby Peter, and various Elders in the Hul'q'umi'num' speaking community from the early 1970s on into the 1990s. Special thanks go to the Cowichan Tribes for their participation in the 1990s and to the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council for numerous supporting grants. Huy tseep q'u to all Elders who shared their knowledge of Hul'q'umi'num'.

It was transliterated into practical orthography and re-formatted by Donna Gerds in May 2013. Please report any corrections, comments, or additions to gerds@sfu.ca. This file is for sharing with all Hul'q'umi'num' people. This work is designed to be used electronically, not printed and distributed. We hope that this will help with efforts to read, write, and speak the language, as well as to develop teaching materials and to help study the structure of Hul'q'umi'num'.

All Hul'q'umi'num' data is in Arial font, while English is in Times. To search for words in just one language, please select font in the find function.

Because it is based on phonetic files, the alphabetization reflects the equivalent phonetic symbol.

ts ts' ch ch' h kw kw' l lh tl' m n p p' q q' qw qw' s sh t t' tth tth' th w hw x
xw y '

Glottal stop ['] precedes vowels in word initial position.

Glottalized resonants are written phonetically as sequences of 'R or R' or R'R.

Hyphens are inserted to clarify the parsing of digraphs, when reading the word from left to right, 'itutew'thw is hyphenated as 'itutew't-hw to avoid confusion with the incorrect parsing: 'itutew'th-w.

You will find a look-up device at the start of each letter, for example:

qqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqqq

Thus a search for qqq will take you to the start of that letter.

Turn off your spell-checker when using this file.

Dictionary entries appear as in the following example:

tsala'lhth [√tsala'lh-t-sam'sh] lend me. (RP 5FEB80) tsala'lhth ch tse' 'u lhun' swetu. Lend me your sweater. (RP 5FEB80)

They are formatted in this order:

tsala'lhth = Hul'q'umi'num' word

[√tsala'lh-t-sam'sh] = morphological parse

√ marks the root of the word prefixes and suffixes are segmented with –

(and thus are potentially confused with hyphens inserted as an orthographic device).

lend me = English gloss

(RP 5FEB80) = source of data, speaker and date

These are followed by one more more example sentences along with source of the data.

Various grammatical remarks are inserted as well.
